

Egyptian Agency of Partnership for Development (EAPD)

Established at the Malabo Summit in July 2014, the Egyptian Agency of Partnership for Development (EAPD) serves as the development arm of the Arab Republic of Egypt. The Agency was created following the announcement by His Excellency the President of the Republic regarding the merger of the “Egyptian Fund for Technical Cooperation with Africa” and the “Egyptian Fund for Technical Cooperation with the Commonwealth, Islamic, and Newly Independent States” into a single institution. EAPD’s vision is to empower peoples, strengthen connectivity, and foster partnerships with countries of the Global South.

Mission

Supporting the peoples and nations of the Global South in their pursuit of the 2030 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Africa’s Agenda 2063.

Institutional structure

EAPD cooperation modalities

The EAPD operates through two main channels: South-South Cooperation and Triangular Cooperation, through which Egypt acts as a pivotal partner by mobilizing national expertise to support beneficiary countries. In Triangular Cooperation, the EAPD works with partners such as the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) and the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO), which act as facilitators in implementing joint development initiatives.

Highlights of activities

- In Rwanda, children with heart conditions once faced limited care. The Egypt–Rwanda Magdi Yacoub Heart Centre, supported by Egyptian expertise, trained local doctors and nurses, introduced advanced surgical techniques, and strengthened hospital services. Today, Rwandan teams perform complex heart surgeries locally, saving lives and transforming pediatric cardiac care nationwide.
- In the Democratic Republic of Congo, communities once faced limited access to clean water. The Forecasting Center project drilled wells in Kitsini, Badora, and Mboka Polo, trained local residents, and built technical skills. Today, reliable water sources improve health, empower communities, and ensure sustainable management for the future.
- In Djibouti, communities in the villages of Omar Jaka faced limited access to electricity. The solar power station is providing clean, reliable energy, while local technicians gain skills. The initiative is improving daily life, empowering residents, and strengthening local capacity for sustainable energy management.
